

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Contact: Helena Freilich
Communications, Women Fly Fishers of Idaho
208-555-5555
communications@wffid.com
<http://blog.wffid.com/index.html>

Women Fly Fishers of Idaho to Host Day-long Beginner's Workshop

Boise, ID, April 10, 2015 – Beginning casting, fly entomology, gear, and knot tying are some of the sessions being presented by the Women Fly Fishers of Idaho.

The April 18, 2015 workshop will begin at 9:00 a.m. at the Idaho Fish and Game Headquarters on 600 S. Walnut Street and will wrap up at 2:00 p.m. Participants are to use the parking lot in the back and enter through the northwest door.

Participants will have a full two hours dedicated to learning how to cast a fly rod with expert guidance by Michael Bantam from DreamCast Idaho. Sessions on flies—both live and tied, beginner knots, float tube safety, and the necessary gear including rods, reels, and line will be taught by Women Fly Fishers of Idaho membership. “This is a low-pressure, fun day to begin to learn about fly fishing. Of course, fly fishing is a lifelong endeavor, but participants will leave with the basics to get started on their own,” said Judy Tallada, the organization’s Treasurer.

Anyone interested in learning how to fly fish is welcome to attend, especially women. Cost per participant is $50 and can be paid with cash or check at the door.

Breakfast snacks and lunch will be provided.

Women Fly Fishers of Idaho are sponsoring the event. For more information and to RSVP, please contact Helena Freilich, Women Fly Fishers of Idaho, 208-555-5555 or communications@wffid.com.

###